POOR LITTLE LAMBS

Of Finance Meet With but Little Sympathy From Congress.

THE NICARAGUAN STOCKHOLDERS

Will Have to Care for Themselves and Their Investments.

WANTED ... AN ACTIVE JINGO POLICY. The Report on the Nicarauguan Canal Bill Adopted by the House.

The House, after a lively debate, adopted the conference report on the bill to incorporate the Nicaraguan Canal Company. It was suggested that the Rothschilds, Barings, and other lambs of the same flock, could protect their own golden fleeces without assistance from the United States. An appeal was also made for an aggressive for- reached.

eign and colonization policy. WASHINGTON, February 6 .- The consideration of the conference report of the Nicaraguan Canal bill was resumed in the House to-day. Mr. Nelson, of Minnesota, thought that the bill reported by the Conference Committee out-Heroded the original bill. By the bill, as it came from the Senate, full paid up stock could be issued for real or The House had stricken out this provision alleged to have been erroncously patented and had adopted an amendment substantially requiring that all stock should be pany. paid for in cash. The conferees had stricken out the amendment and had gone beyond the provision of the Senate bill by authorizing the issuing of stock, not only for property and concessionary rights, but tor labor and material furnished. The conferees had seen the Senate bill and gone it B good deal better.

Mr. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, spoke of the blessings which the canal would confer upon the Southern coast States and upon the Pacific coast.

A JINGO POLICY.

Mr. Chipman, of Michigan, said that he had favored the bill as it came from the Senate. He had not favored it as it passed the House, the amendments which had been placed upon it having served to emasculate it. They had been incorporated on the idea that the United States should be free from entangling alliances, and that it should isolate itself. The day for isolation had passed. Voices from all parts of the world were warning the United States of thisvoices from the Isthmus, from Samon, from wherever foreign nations had planted their flags. The attempt to make it impracticable ior American enterprise to plant itself in foreign countries was too late. The day had ed and the time had come for a haughty and dictatorial American policy, and cer-tainly a wise American policy. "This," he said, "is a bold step-no, it is not bold, for even in its present shape it is hesitating, timid-but in comparison with our past it is a bold step in the direction of the destiny of the country.

ACQUIRING NEW TERRITORY.

"We are carrying the flag into that re gion of Central America. We are carrying it with the indersement of this Government. We have put ourselves where, though we may not be pecuniarily liable, we shall be morally responsible for the safety and the world. I, for one, hope that this step is only a prelude to the day when the nation

Mr. Buckalew, of Pennsylvania, said that he could not discover in the bill any clear guarantee that the amount of stock and bonds to be issued would not be two, three or four times the actual cost of the work. If the holders of stock or honds were to receive dividends and interest, the commerce of the world might be subjected to most unreasonable and unjust charges. He thought that the bill should go back to conference in order that this defect might be remedied.

NO USE FOR MOSSBACKS. Mr. O'Neill, of Missouri, said that he was in receipt of many telegrams from prominent men in St. Louis in favor of the bill. He had no extreme sensitiveness con-cerning the bondholders. He did not know Congress was called upon to worry itself as to whether the bondholder was going to strike magnificent returns or to strike an Irish dividend occasionally in in the shape of an assessment. The trouble with the American people was a lack of self-assertion. They were eternally quibbling, arraid to do this or that on account of the consequences. The greatest nation on earth should be the first to lead in giant enterprises, and conservative mossback statesmen need not be alarmed. The people would sustain them in their action if they passed the bill. Mr. Scott suggested that the old story of the cuttle fish muddying the watter in order orders for spring stock are now being placed that it might escape might be applicable with the manufacturers, and during this to the gentlemen who were opposed to the

THE LAMBS OF EUROPE.

The gentleman from Alabama (Mr. Cobb) had supplemented his Constitutional argu-ment by an expression of the interest he took in the lambs of Europe, and of the fear that Congress might do something by which those lambs would be inveigled into an investment and lose their money. If the lambs of Europe, as represented by the Rothschilds, the Barings and other great banking houses, were not able to take care of themselves and look out for their own investments, he did not think that the Congress of the United States could help them. He disclaimed having any personal interest, direct or indirect, in the canal company, and deprecated the idea which seemed to prevail that a man who, by his industry and investments, had succeeded in getting enough of this world's goods was not compe-tent to express himself and vote upon such a measure as was now presented. Mr. Clardy, of Missouri, closed the debate | prior to sending our buyer to Europe. in support of the conference report. He said that his colleague (Mr. Bland) had stated that he opposed the report because the amendment allowing the Government to regulate the tolls had been stricken out. Admitted to the Union. WASHINGTON, February 6 .- The House Committee on Territories held their regular | field street, Pittsburg, Pa. Wholesale and meeting this morning, and took final action on the bill for the admission of Utah and the omnibus bill providing an enabling act for the admission of the Territories of Idaho, Wyoming and Arizona as States of the Union. It was decided, with regard to the Utah matter, to appoint a sub-committee of five members, with Representative Springer as Chairman, to draft a report to the effect that, owing to the lateness of the session, it would be impracticable to secure the passage of the pending bill. The committee decided to report favorably the Omnibus bill providing enabling acts for the admission of other Territories above named. The vote in the committee was practically unanimous on this proposition although one or two members of the commit tee expressed themselves as opposed to the osmibus system and preferred the admission of these Territories singly.

SELFISH SENATORS

They talked for an hour or so, but came to to conclusion, it is reported, as to a policy to be pursued upon legislation or nominations. One Senator said they had nothing to propose to the Republicans upon either sumed in speeches by individual Senators, urging that preference be given bills in which they are interested. Nearly every Senator present had some measure which be thought should have precedence in arrang-ing an order of business for the remainder of the session. In view of this wide diversity of opinion, and of the fact that the time the Senate for some days to come will be taken up with appropriation bills, the caucus adjourned without any conclusion being reached. Senator Harris, chairman of the caucus, said the question of unconfirmed nominations was not considered at all.

The Text of a Measure Which Gives Existing Gas, Beat and Electric Light Compunies All They Can Ask-Competitio Carefully Guarded Agninst.

A VERY REMARKABLE BILL.

A good deal of curiosity has been aroused particularly in cities and boroughs, over the terms of a remarkable act introduced in the Legislature proposing to give gas, electric light and power companies monopolies in the districts where they are now in operation. This is effected by providing that they shall have "exclusive" rights to furnish such districts until they shall have "during five years carned and divided among their stockholders dividends equal to 8 per cent upon their capital stock." If they pass dividends and accumulate profits for division in the future-or if they "water" their stock and pay only 7 per cent-they can continue without opposition as long as they

Another phase of the bill is that it gives such companies the right to go where they please in cities or boroughs subject only to the very vague restriction of "reasonable regulation by Councils as to grades and public travel and convenience." A third makes the law a special collector of debts for such companies by providing that whenever the goods of their debtors are taken in execution at the suit of other people, the claim of these companies must first be paid out of the proceeds before the execution creditor gets anything.

So extraordinary are the provisions of this act that a good many people, when it was first anneunced, supposed that it would scarcely be seriously pressed, but private telegrams received in the city yesterday stated that it was being pushed in earnest. It was introduced at the instance of some Philadelphia corporations, which now have representaives at Harrisburg asking its passage Following are the interesting sections of the Section 3 .- That the first clause of section Se section a.—Inact the first clause of section as of the act of 1874, relating to corporations, shall read as follows, viz.: Where any such company shall be incorporated as a gas company or company for the supply of light, heat and power by electricity, or the supply of light or heat to the public by any other means, it shall have authority to any other means. electricity, or the supply of light or beat to the public by any other means, it shall have authority to supply with gas or light, heat and power by electricity, or light or heat by any other means, the borough, town, city or district where it may be located, and such persons, partnerships or corporations residing therein or adjacent thereto as may desire the same, at such price as may be agreed upon; and also to make, erect or manutain the necessary buildings, machines or apparatus for producing or manufacturing gas or light, heat or power by electricity, or light or heat by any other means, and distributing the same, with the right to enter upon any public street, lane, alley or highway for the purpose of laying down pipes and conduits, erecting poles and stringing whee thereon, or altering, inspecting or repairing the same, doing as little damage to said streets, lanes, alleys or highways, and impairing the free use thereof as little as possible, and subject to such regulations as the Councils of said borough, town, city or district may adopt in regard to grades, or for the protection or convenience of the public travel over the same.

By the physicians of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute. 22 Ninth street. "For twenty-five years I have suffered from Catarrh, Dyspepsia, and a diseased condition of the liver, as few persons have. During this time I treated with no less than thirty physicians; not only with the most skilled physicians of this city, but also with the most eminent physicians of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, receiving no permanent benefit. My symptoms were as follows: Continuous headache, dizziness, catarrhal secretion in my head dropping into my throat and depositing its poison on my lungs; dry hacking cough and shortness of breath; had a terrible burning sensation in my stomach, belching of gas, also nausea and frequent vomiting. Had a weak, tired feeling all the time. My friends thought I could not live. I felt that life was a burden and death would be a relief. In this condition I began treatment with the specialists for these diseases, and as a result of their skill I became cared of the above conditions over one year ago, and the cure has remained skill I became cared of the above conditions over one year ago, and the cure has remained permanent.
